I can’t register for multiple tickets for a membership event or a members-only ticket.

Our members recieve discounts on all in-person classes and courses. They also receive invitations to members-only events. If the member wants to bring a non-member, they should pick up a member ticket for themselves and a non-member ticket for their guest.

If you have more than one member in a household. Each member should register for an event personally. We understand that couples would rather streamline this process, and we hope to have a solution for this issue in the future. If you prefer to purchase for yourself and another member, you can order your tickets first and then your partners. in a separate transaction.

A caveat to purchasing more than one member ticket per event: anyone with a member ticket without being an active member will be charged full price, plus a processing fee.
