While both courses cover the core content, there are a few distinctions to consider. The condensed version in August is designed for individuals who prefer an intensive and focused learning experience. It covers the same material as the 8-week course but is compressed into a shorter timeframe. This option is suitable for those who have more availability during that particular period. It is also the preferred choice of some of our most successful Type-A students.

On the other hand, the 8-week course in the Fall offers a more relaxed pace, allowing for deeper exploration and discussion of the topics covered. It provides additional time for practice, reflection, and engagement with the course material. This option might be preferable if you prefer a more extended learning period or if you have other commitments that make the shorter timeframe challenging.

Both options will provide you with a comprehensive understanding of the subject matter, and the choice ultimately depends on your preferred learning style and availability.
